

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN LIBERAL STUDIES

Multiple Subject Teaching Credential

The Multiple Subject Teaching Credential course sequence can be taken as an embedded component of the Bachelor of Arts degree in Liberal Studies or as a 36-credit standalone post-baccalaureate credential. This credential program is only open to California residents as the Clinical Practice must take place in a California public school.

When embedded into the Bachelor of Arts degree program in Liberal Studies, completing the Multiple Subject Teaching Credential courses reduces the elective credits needed for the degree from 47 to 11 credits. Students in the embedded program must earn a C or better grade in all subject-matter coursework (major courses). Students must also maintain a 3.0 GPA in the credential program coursework, and have no grades below C- and no more than three grades below a B- in the credential program coursework (500-level courses). Students must have a 3.0 GPA to begin the Clinical Practice semester.

500-level courses carry graduate credit.

Subject Matter Competence requirements must be met 90 days prior to the start of the Clinical Practice semester.

Completion of coursework requirements does not guarantee completion of the Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential.

Program Learning Outcomes (PLO) for the Multiple Subject Teaching Credential
